BREVITIES.

Ask Nasby for an incandescent pen. Try the incandescent pens at Nasby's.

Dr. M. Pritchard, of Sierra Valley is in town.

Savage has been assessed fifty cents per share.

S. A. Hamlin was down from Essex yesterday.

Albert Ross, of Long Valley, was here yesterday.

Another car load of watermelons and cantaloupes at Berry & Novacovich's.

The incandescent pens are the best. Nasby, sole agent for Washoe county.

Mr. Pierce, the owner of the Reno Gas Works, came up from below yesterday.

M. E. Ward has gone on a trip to Surprise Valley. He will return Thursday.

Harry Marsh, of Winnemucca, has been visiting Reno friends for a couple of days.

Henry Rhine is at home again. He has been out hunting poles for the Electric Light Co.

Dr. L. O. Hudson returned on last night's train after a successful stay of one month in Virginia.

Supt. Batty says "the new electric light storage battery" is what the Asylum works like a charm.

Nasby has been appointed sole agent for Washoe county for M. Jacobs' London incandescent pens.

John Dennis, late Melior and Refiner of the Carson Mint, is stopping at the Riverside for a few days.

The ranchers of Smith Valley, Lyon county, will put up 6,000 tons of hay this season. It is principally alfalfa and of excellent quality.

Geo. S. Nixon, Cashier of the First National Bank, Winnemucca, returned from California on yesterday morning's train, and continued on to Winnemucca.

It is not generally known, but it is nevertheless a fact, that since June 1st the milling charges of the Comstock Mill and Mining Company, which works the ores of the Con. Cal. & Va. mine, and the Nevada Mill and Mining Company, which works ore for the Hale & Norcross mine, have been $6 per ton, including transportation. The previous charge had been $7 per ton.

Miss Kate Fellows, for the past three years a compositor in the JOURNAL office, last Saturday resigned her "case," preparatory to making arrangements to leave for Carson to take a position in the Collier's department of the Mint. The young lady justly deserves a better "take," her grandfather, Hart Fellows, having rendered glorious service for the Republicans of California, her father having been a Union soldier, and one of the founders of the Journal, and the young lady herself competent and willing. The JOURNAL regrets to lose her services as well as see Carson take away one of Reno's best girls. On Sunday evening she departed for Sacramento to pay a visit to friends at Sacramento and her father at Placerville, before settling down at Carson.

Saw Mill Burned.

O. Loukey is in bad luck with fires. It is not many months ago since he lost $10,000 by the burning of the planing mill at Verdi, and early Sunday morning his Prospector Creek saw mill was burned to the ground. It may have caught from the sparks of the engine, or it may have been the work of an incendiary. The details are not hand, so the JOURNAL is not able to give the loss, or amount of insurance, if any.

For Gaming Purposes.

The workmen have commenced on the upper story of the Radrup corner. Spiro and Gregory will start in at once to put a place on top of the Wine House, and Geo. Humphrey has already commenced on a 20x30 brick to be built on the rear of the Mouchar. When this work is all done there will be five places for gambling purposes up stairs.

Artisan Wells.

J. C. Ford and R. Sadler have received a well-boring machine, and it has been taken to Sadler's ranch in Huntington Valley and set to work, after which it will be removed to Ford's ranch in Antelope Valley, and a well will be sunk there. The Sentinel says this is the first attempt at well-boring in Esch county.

RIVERSIDE REFLECTIONS.

Reno's Recuperation-Depot Possibilities-Apples and Alfalfa-A Butter-milk Episode and Pathetic Dog Tale.

Reno, Nev., July 20, 1899.

Rebuilding the burned district at the lower end of town goes actively ahead and brick walls are assuming formidable proportions, and a large first-class hotel is to be erected on the corner lot where the stable and theater stood. Pethoff, who owned the stable, and Miss Sykes, who owned the theater, having since married, secured their insurance and pooled their issues, as it were, have bought the lot opposite the Reno House, on Lake street, back of the destroyed stable, for $4,000, and will erect a large new stable, 100 feet in length. The location is excellent. Beyond hanging away some of the iron pipes and similar wreckage from the ruins of the Depot Hotel, nothing has been done toward clearing up the ground for rebuilding. In fact, it is still said there is no sure thing that the Depot will be rebuilt in that same place, but possibly further up the track—to the west. Anyhow, it will be a depot and not a hotel. Reno has more hotels operating and projected than any two or three towns in the State of Nevada.

AGRICULTURE.

Owing to unusual falling off in the supply of water in the Truckee river at this season the irrigating ditches are not well filled, and the alfalfa crop does not come up to the average throughout the valley. The hay stacks will not be so large and numerous this year, nor the grain as abundant, but the potato crop will not fall much short. The fruit crop is above the average in both quantity and quality.

Some of the best ranches in this valley are owned by persons of foreign extraction, and in many respects their mode of life and domestic methods differ greatly from those of the American rancher.

BUTTERMILK STORAGE.

In a certain family on a ranch not a thousand miles from Reno, fondness for buttermilk is a strongly marked feature, and during the Summer and Fall, before the cows run dry, it is their custom to store up all the supplies of this favorite beverage for Winter use in big stone crocks, butter tubs, etc. A great fondness for dogs is also a peculiar feature of this family, and there are usually a goodly number of these interesting animals about the houses and ranch. One of them, of the female persuasion, known as "Bobbet," was the especial pet of the mistress of the ranch. Some months ago Bobbet was suddenly missed, and under peculiarly distressing circumstances, she having just brought into the world a litter of fine pups, which were now motherless and had to be killed, much to the grief of all the family.

BONNET'S SAD FATE.

As time rolled on the supply of buttermilk was extensively drawn upon as usual, and one of the largest tubs was getting lowered. One day the good wife tipped up the tub, the better to fill the pail. Then she discovered a four p body, at the bottom. She set down the pail, and directly fished up the body of the late lamented Bobbet, and held it up to drain. Mournfully she surveyed it for a few moments, then picking up a big spoon lying near by, scraped the thick milk off the default body into the tub, reflectively and philosophically remarking: "Well, Bobbet always was a good clean dog." Then she took a refreshing swig, calmly set the pail on the table, threw Bobbet's corpse on a convenient waste pile in the yard, and went on with her work as if nothing had happened.

Advice to Mothers.

Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with pain of cutting teeth? If so, send at once and get a bottle of Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children Teething. Its value is incalculable. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Depend upon it, mothers, there is no mistake about it. It cures dysentery and diarrhoea, regulates the stomach and bowels, cures wind colic, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children Teething is pleasant to the taste, and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female nurses and physicians in the United States, and is for sale by all druggists throughout the world. Price 25 cents a bottle. feb. 21-wf-ly.

Ah, There!

The Lyon County Times raise to remark:

It is reported that Senator J. P. Jones is to build a residence in Reno and make that place his home. The Senatorial year will be a great thing for Reno if all the candidates for the Senate build mansions there. Newslands and Jones having declared their intentions, it is in order for Williams, Sharon, Foley, Wren and other aspirants to tell that they also are going to build somewhere. We have a town lot in the city of Dayton which is for sale at reasonable figures, and the gentleman who desires to carry the Lyon county delegation mark, at least to buy a lot here or in Pizen Switch and propose building.

"Reno, the Prettiest."

The Eureka Sentinel says: C. H. Cronan, the ticket and freight agent of the E & P Railroad Company, returned home last Tuesday from a trip to California. He has visited a number of places, but says he found no place as good as Eureka, and that the much bragged of fruit country of California affords no living except to middle men, the producers making but a bare living. "Reno," says Cronan, "is the prettiest place I have seen since I left. Eureka is all right, and all it requires to make it boom is a fair show."

Bank Commissioner Cassidy left last Monday for the western part of Nevada and California, to finish up the examination of some nineteen National Banks, provided his head is not chopped off with the Administration guillotine before he gets through with them. Sentinel.

Ed. Vanderlith, a highly respected citizen of this place, has received the appointment of Register of Deposits to the Carson Mint, at a salary of $1,800. Ned, many friends here would be pleased if your salary was $2,800.—Eureka Sentinel.

A Lifelong Love.

William Warren, the veteran comedian of the Boston museum, had a romance that a newspaper writer has just made public. "Few persons," says he, "are aware that this comedian, the merriest of the merry, carried a lifelong hunger in his heart." In their earlier years William Warren and Adelaide Phillips were lovers. The latter had a father of the Eccles type. When marriage was proposed to her she made this answer:

"I love you, and because I love you I will not marry you. This old man, my father, is helpless—a sore trial, in truth—and he must look to me while he lives. I would not purchase my own happiness by adding years to my burden. Let us wait, for if the young years come bring fruition of our hopes we will live for each other then. Meanwhile I shall not come to love you, nor will I marry any other man, let the end be what it may."

The lovers went their ways. Father Phillips, though he abated not a jot of his devotion to his daughter, lived on and on. Young Adelaide grew old and gray, and the great comedian went on the list of honored veterans of whom the world speaks with respect. Still their love survived, and when at last their weary waiting ended, and they once more took up the old question, both found that opportunity was come too late.

"They had grown old in singleness; had formed indissoluble habits; neither had many years longer to remain, and—well, they would live out their lives in the way they had followed for a generation, and trust to the eternal future to bring them realization of their early dream. Adelaide Phillips went first, the strong base and building of the unshaken to the last. And now the other, who, like Philip Ray, had waited all his life, has found the meaning there is in the august experience of a change of worlds."—Brooklyn Eagle.

Tricking Dogas Critics.

A St. Paul gentleman, who many years ago was a resident of Cincinnati, tells a story concerning a dog, the sculptor, which has probably never been in print. There were at that time in Cincinnati two or three connoisseurs in art who assumed a sort of general censorship in such matters, and everything that they said concerning works of art was supposed to "go." They had unfavorably criticized the dog's work, and as he did not take much stock in public opinion, he decided to show them up to the art people of the city. He was working some in wax and announced a reception at which he would show some of the latest products of his genius.

Among the figures was one representing the mayor of the city. It stood in a niche by itself, with the dog's name for the best effect. The high muckmucks of the art world of Cincinnati attended the reception. They examined the figure of the mayor and made comment on it. "The hands," remarked one, "do not reveal any anatomy." "The legs are a trifle short," said another, "but otherwise I consider it a very fine figure." And so they went on. One of them finally discovered that something was wrong about the bridge of the nose, and raised his hand to point out the defect. "Damn you, don't you pinch my nose," cried the alleged wax figure to their astonishment, dismay and complete overthrow as critics. The sculptor had induced the real live mayor to help him in his little scheme.—St. Paul Pioneer Press.

The Millionaire Mother of a Socialist. One of the richest women in the world, the Duchess of Galliera, died in Paris. Her grace was the daughter and heiress of the Marquis de Brignole Sale, a rich Genoese nobleman. She years ago married the Duke de Galliera, who was very wealthy, but their fortune was enormously increased by judicious speculations. Some idea of the Duchess of Galliera's riches and benevolence can be formed when it is said that her husband gave $1,000,000 to the city of Genoa to enlarge the port, and the duchess $2,000,000 to build a new hospital—the most magnificent in Europe—to enlarge five streets and to restore churches and charitable institutions. She also presented to her native city her palace, the celebrated Palazzo Rosso, with its superb collection of Van Dyckes and other pictures by the greatest artists, an art museum and other charitable institutions, and she is well known also to have purchased back a good deal of the Spanish estates of the Duc de Montpensier, which she presented to him many years ago. The only son and heir of this lady, Signor Ferrar, refuses the title of duke—is a well known socialist, who was the duchess herself was an extreme Royalist.—London Court Journal.

A Large Organ.

A correspondent of La Science Famille states that in the Protestant church at Lubau, Russia, there is an organ which occupies the whole width of the church, about 60 feet, and which has 131 registers, 3,000 pipes and 14 bell-jaws of large size. It has 4 harpsichords and 1 pedal. The largest pipe is formed of planks 8 inches thick and 31 feet in length, and has a section of 7 square inches, and weighs 1,540 pounds. Besides the 131 registers, there are 21 accessory stops that permit of combining various parts of the instrument, thus having direct recourse to the registers. By a special pneumatic combination, the organist can couple the four harpsichords and obtain surprising results. For the sake of comparison the following large instruments of this kind may be cited: Organ of the cathedral of Riga, 125 registers; Garden City cathedral, 120; St. Albert Hall, London, 100; Cathedral of Ulm, 100; St. George's Hall, Liverpool, 100; Notre Dame, Paris, 90; Boston cathedral, 86; Cathedral of Schwerin, 85; St. Nicholas church, Leipzig, 85; Cologne cathedral, 42.—Scientific American.

A Remarkable Chess Player. In America there are ladies who make a livelihood by teaching the principles of the royal game of chess. In Russia there is a lady known to the chess circles who, to use an Americanism, beats them hollow. She is a chess player whose father, once a wealthy landowner of the south of Russia, lost all his fortune over the chess board. His daughter, now Madame Lavroffsky, when still a young girl, was seized with the fixed idea of winning it back in the manner in which it was lost. She studied the game with unexampled assiduity under her father's guidance, and in time became a past master, or mistress, therein. Then she began her career as a professional. She has since then amassed a considerable fortune, playing to large stakes, and lately married a Russian nobleman, and lately married. Lavroffsky, also a lover of chess.—Fall Mail Gazette.

A Surplus of Constitution.

Calves News: Texas has more Constitution than any other State, over three times as much as the United States, more than needed by any ten States—a surplus, indeed, or organic law so vast and voluminous, and so intricate, that after thirteen years of study and consideration its provisions are conceded on all hands to be above and beyond all human understanding.

THE SELECT KNIGHTS.

Innovations Bring on Speedy Disintegration. New. The Any Connection Whatever With the A. O. U. W. Beyond the Use of Its Initials.

The Enterprise says: The last edition of the Illustrated Pacific States, published in the interest of the Ancient Order of United Workmen, states that the action of the Supreme Legion in casting loose from the parent organization has resulted in the utter demoralization and disintegration of the Select Knights, and the consequence is that instead of one organization working for a common purpose, the Order has split up into four or five parts, without any local authority or head, and the beneficiary certificates held by its members are not worth the paper they are written upon.

To remove any doubt that may exist regarding the effect upon the A. O. U. W., it is only necessary to state that the Select Knights was a totally separate and distinct organization, managed by an entirely different set of officers, and was only started a few years ago by parties in Missouri and Kansas, the original intention being to enable members of the A. O. U. W. who so desired to obtain an additional $2,000 life insurance, membership in it to be conditional upon good standing in the A. O. U. W. With this understanding the Supreme Lodge of Workmen granted permission to use the letters A. O. U. W. in connection with the words Select Knights. The Order does not seem to have caught the popular fancy, as its total membership never exceeded ten or twelve thousand throughout the States and Canada, and of late the assessments were so outrageously heavy that the Lodges on this coast refused to pay them, thereby causing their charters to be suspended, and rendering their policies null and void.

California has invited Nevada to join her in trying to reorganize and maintain the connection with the A. O. U. W. among policies for $1,000. Whatever the outcome may be, it will not affect the A. O. U. W. in the slightest degree, that Society being one of the largest and most popular beneficial institutions on the continent, and having at its head men of conservative business principles.

The Lodge of Select Knights in this city never exceeded 50 in membership, which included those drawn from Gold Hill, Silver City and Dayton, and while it is to be regretted that its members should have nothing but a gaudy uniform to show for the money paid in, yet in life insurance it is not better that failure should come before than after death?

As to Secretary Blaine.

Cleveland Leader. There is no better proof of Mr. Blaine's prominence and power than the way in which his enemies attempt to persuade themselves and the country that he is infirm and without influence with the Administration.

Washington Post, (Ind.): Depend upon it that whenever Mr. Blaine gets ready to resign he will stay down and stay in broad daylight and in full view of the country, instead of doing so under cover of night and convoy of irresponsible rascals.

The Assistant Democrats at Work. Iowa State Register. Ex-Gov. St. John is traveling over Iowa, engaged in his usual business of drumming for the Democratic party. He thinks that there are enough third party Prohibitionists in Iowa to give the State to the Democratic party if they will all stand up and be counted. Well, there are not. And the rascals will have his labor for his pains.

Not a Man to Be Shoved.

Philadelphia News: If the truth ever comes when, for any cause, Blaine wants to step out, he'll step out. He won't be shoved from office by any man or any clique of rascals-mongers.

WEAF ON LAFFIN.

It is never people who put on a cor do not see any difference in cheap notions; put up in cheap town houses or irresponsible parties at various times, rather than take a medicine of world wide reputation and who that is giving universal satisfaction at 75¢ a price? No medicine in the world giving such unparalleled satisfaction for purifying the blood as Dr. J. C. BLOOD PURIFIER AND BLOOD MAKER, and every bottle that does not do its work will cost you nothing.

The proprietor is now ready to receive proposals for lots in Powning's Addition. The map gives a good idea of the tract, which is situated between the Central Pacific Railroad and the Truckee River, and commences on the west at a point three blocks distant from Virginia Street, making it the most central and convenient of any portion of the rapidly growing town of Reno. Unlike any other part of the town this Addition faces the beautiful Truckee River and Riverside Avenue is certain to become the fashionable driveway of the country. The streets are 80 feet wide, while Riverside and Keystone Avenues are intended to be 100 feet in width. All alleys are 20 feet wide. The soil is a rich gravelly loam, and susceptible of the highest state of cultivation. Being situated as it is it is more safe from fire than any other section. The regular lots are 50x140 feet. The sewerage is perfect.

Before Buying Elsewhere Parties will do Well to Look at These Lots.

RENO

Reno's geographical position is excellent. It is on the line of the Central Pacific Railroad, only 154 miles from Sacramento, and 244 miles from San Francisco. It is the terminus of the Virginia and Truckee Railroad running south, and of the Nevada and California Railroad running north. It has two Flouring Mills, Planing Mills, three Nurseries, a Soap Factory, Reduction Works, and other industries. A great Woolen Mill and a Sash, Door, Blind and Box Factory, are about to be established.

Reno has the Bank of Nevada with $300,000 capital, and the First National Bank with $400,000 capital. It has two fine papers in the DAILY and WEEKLY NEVADA STATE JOURNAL and the Daily and Weekly Gazette.

Situated in the very heart of the celebrated Truckee Meadows the future of Reno is assured. Reno is the City of Homes. There is not a house to rent in Reno. New buildings are occupied as fast as erected. Reno has advantages which no other town can equal. The climate is mild and genial in Winter, and even and healthful in Summer. There are no excessively heated or severely cold terms, and while the days may be warm in Summer the nights are deliciously cool; in Winter sleigh-riding is the exception and not the rule.

Facilities for irrigating surpass any in the State and there is no failure of crops. Reno has Churches of all denominations, Bishop Whitaker's School for Girls, Mt. St. Mary's Academy, the State University, and splendid Public Schools.

The Reno Water Co. furnishes ample pure, cold water for all purposes. The Reno Electric Light Co.'s electric light system, already well established, is being augmented. The Reno Gas Co. supplies gas for all purposes. The streets of Reno are lighted by electricity.
